

Thinking Globally, Acting Locally

To the Store Manager and the CEO:

As a person of faith and a regular customer of your store, I encourage you to look into the conditions under which the goods you sell are produced. The tenets of Catholic Social Teaching require that all workers' rights be respected. Many of the products offered for our consumption are subsidized by the poor payment of workers in other parts of the world (and even some in this country.) They do not receive a living wage for their labor.

We expect that you will be as concerned as we about this serious violation of Human Rights and that you will take every opportunity to question your providers about the conditions under which workers "all down the line" are compensated. We want to be certain that in continuing to make purchases in your store, we are not contributing to the impoverishment of our sisters and brothers in any place in this world.

We sincerely thank you for your attention to this concern,
