

Missionary Cooperation Plan 2024

Brought to you by The Society for the Propagation of the Faith

Pallottine Fathers and Brothers

The Society of the Catholic Apostolate is an International Community of priests and brothers founded by a Roman Priest, St. Vincent Pallotti (1795 – 1850). From his name it receives its popular name “Pallottines.”

Today Pallottines carry out the mission of bringing together all the people for the purpose of spreading the Good News throughout the world. The Prabhu Prakash Province, one of the Provinces under the Society of the Catholic Apostolate, carries out this mission of the Pallottines in India. The fathers and brothers of the Province spend their lives educating the poor and underprivileged, animating the social and apostolic activities, caring for the orphans and homeless, serving parishes, conducting retreats and promoting evangelization.

The Pallottines welcome you to join them on their lifelong journey to bring together all people to spread the Good News in the diverse realities of India.
